

HERITAGE AND LANDSCAPE

The British Cemetery

Architecture, Landscape, Sculpture

BRENT ELLIOTT &
ROGER BOWDLER

The first comprehensive history of British cemeteries by experts, celebrating funereal landscapes and their tombs.

www.liverpooluniversitypress.co.uk/r/historic-england

'This is, without doubt, the most comprehensive volume to be produced on the British Cemetery Movement, complimenting and greatly expanding previous works in the field [...] In short, it exhibits knowledge, strength, quality, originality and great significance to the field of funerary studies, from the Introduction through to its final chapter.' - Julian Litten, Vice-President, Church Monuments Society

APRIL 2026

Hardback | 9781836245964 | £50.00

Ebook | 9781805967408 | £50.00

544 pages | 240 × 170 mm

20% off the RRP when purchasing directly from the LUP website

KEY FEATURES

- The first survey of modern British cemeteries, from their origins to the present day.
- A ground-breaking examination of how cemeteries were laid out, from infrastructure to planting and buildings.
- A pioneering study of the rise of outdoor tomb design, looking at aesthetics, the industry of quarrying, and how supplying cemetery monuments became a global industry.

AUTHOR INFORMATION

Brent Elliott, formerly Librarian at the Royal Horticultural Society, member of the Victorian Society's Buildings Committee, has been a committee member or trustee for Kensal Green, West Norwood, and Highgate Cemeteries.

Roger Bowdler worked at English Heritage/Historic England from 1989 to 2018 as a historian and Director of Listing. A specialist in commemorative art, he has written on church monuments, churchyards, mausolea and war memorials.

LIVERPOOL
UNIVERSITY PRESS
FOUNDED 1899

In partnership with Historic England

www.liverpooluniversitypress.co.uk

✉ SUBSCRIBE 🦋 FOLLOW @LIVUNIPRESS.BSKY.SOCIAL 🗨 PUBLISH